CALL FOR DOCTORAL FORUM APPLICATIONS AT ISSI 2013

ISSI 2013 – 14th International Conference on Scientometrics and Informetrics

July 15th, 2013, Vienna, Austria

www.issi2013.org

Deadline for Doctoral Forum applications: February 4, 2013

The biannual ISSI conference is the premier international venue for research within the areas of informetrics, scientometrics and bibliometrics. For more information on the scope of the conference and the areas of interest please visit the conference web site.

For the fifth time a Doctoral Forum is offered at the ISSI conference. The primary objective of the Doctoral Forum is to provide doctoral students with a forum to present and discuss their research projects with senior researchers and fellow students and to develop their relationships with other scientists. The Doctoral Forum is a one-day event that will take place prior to the main conference on 15 July 2013.

Due to the time consuming form of the Doctoral Forum, the number of participants is restricted. The doctoral forum is only open to the invited senior researchers and the accepted students. There is no separate fee for attending the doctoral forum, but participation requires the students to register for the conference.

Doctoral forum committee (senior researchers): To be announced later

Doctoral Forum organizers
Christian Schlögl (Institute of Information Science and Information Systems, University of Graz, Austria)
Ivana Roche (Institute for Scientific and Technical Information, CNRS, France)

Time & location: 9:00 – 16:00, University of Vienna, room: Hörsaal A, Vienna, Austria

Doctoral forum applicants
Applicants should be doctoral students, from any country, conducting ongoing PhD research on any of ISSI 2013 conference themes and related fields (see: http://www.issi2013.org/about.html). To apply to the Forum, please submit an application of up to 1500 words containing:

- Description of doctoral research project - including research questions, theoretical background, planned methodology, current status and
- Motivation for student participation at the Doctoral Forum and the issues you wish to receive feedback on from the senior researchers.

The first page of the application must contain the name, affiliation and full address of the doctoral student including phone and fax numbers and email address, as well as the name of the supervisor(s).

Applications should be submitted in RTF or PDF format to Christian Schlögl at: christian.schloegl@uni-graz.at.

Important dates
Submission deadline is February 4, 2013 and notification of acceptance April 4, 2013.

Further information
Please visit the conference website for additional information on the Doctoral Forum.

Partners of the Doctoral Forum:
- ASIST SIG/MET
- European Student Chapter of ASIS&T
- Center for Doctoral Studies, University of Vienna